Bretnor. 1612.

A Prognostication for this present yeare of our Lord God. MDCXI.

Being Bissextile or Leap-yeare.

Wherein besides the generall state of the foure Quarters of the yeare.

and daily disposition thereof, are bricfly set downe sundry Physicall notes, and other directions of good consequence.

Together with the time and effects of such Eclipses as shall happen and ap-peare this present yeare. 1612.

Physically argued, and gathered from the seuerall habitudes and effects of this our earthly Orbe to that of Light and others, and of all of them one to another.

To the friendly Reader.

TH E meanest Artificer in the world (curteous Reader) would be loth to be deprived of the least fauour or commendation due vnto his labours (if any be) or that the same should be fathered of any other person whatsoeuer, for Sic vos non vobis, &c. which falling out to be my case (in regard of the misprision of some simple sciolists) who (being not able to discern the Lyon by his paw) ascribe the penning of my Prognostication to Mr. Gresham, who neuer saw line thereof in his life before the impression, I thought fit to let the world vnderstand that it is no such matter, and that there can be no great credit to him to haue such a rumor spread abroad, considering he may and can when he please diuulge a better, so I take it very indignely to be accounted a step-father in this kind, howsoeuer some brauing bragadochio would triumph his labours should be supposed to be hatched in the ham of a better workman. The greatest thing that moueth them to thinke so, for-sooth is, the bare imitation of him in my Symboles, for which, howsoeuer some of a preiudicat opinion, either knowing not the power of nature aright, or too much leaning to free-will, do sinistfully censure of me: yet others of more temperate and ingenious spirits (observing many strong impressions and strange accidents to happen at such and such times) do nothing mislike thereof, but are rather drawne thereby into a greater admiration of the workes of God by nature, and yet notwithstanding do, and euer will professe with mee, that —————

*Such men as liue vwithin their teather right
And cut their cotes according to their cloth,
Need not to obserue the holies of day or night,
VWhen to beginne their vwork and vwhen to loib
None need to feare a harsh or dismall end, VWho purely liue and haue the Lord to freind.
But such as leuallly do consume their times,
In swearing, drinking, vvhooing and the like,
And make no conscience of committing crimes:
May vsiages feare to fall into the dike,
For such are subiect vnto euill dayes.
VWho haue no feare of God before their eyes,
And yet vve see the bodies of the best,
Opposed are to many a satall blow:
As donely vvhicked men do seeme as blest:
And freest from the terrours here below.
So, that small difference twixt them can be spied.
Cause hope of better life, vwhen life's denyed.*

Certaine Physicall directions, and first of Phlebotomy.

Considering that blood is the preserver and nourisher of life, or wherein life hath his principall seate, & abode, (for in spilling the one, the other spendeth) I would wish every one to be very respectiue and carefull of the effusion and waisting thereof, and not vpon euery light occasion, or brain-sicke counsel of any hayardly horse-leach be so bold as imbrine their hands in their owne blood, least in stead of curing they kill, and so become murderers of themselves: But rather when great necessity brgeth repasse to the learned Physition: or otherwise haue an especiall regard of the time of the yeare, their strength, complexion, and age, as also of the place and configuration of the Moone, vntill the case be exceeding desperate, as often comes to passe in pluresies, Calentures, the Taberilla, and such like wherein present Phlebotomy is requisite.

1. Touching the season, Hippocrates himselfe warneth euery one to haue great care of the solsticiall and Equinoctiall points but especially of the Sommer-solstice, and Autum:all Equinox, so that we neither take potion, open veine or cauterize any part, within x. dayes after any such period: or the rising or setting of Canis Maior, Arcturus, or the Pleiades.

And as in common practise we find that coldnesse, of nature and season, extreame grieke or sorrow, watching, bathing, the sports of Venus, fulnesse of meate and drinke, long-sicknesse, fearefulnesse, faineheartednesse, indigestion, Fluxes naturall and vnnaturall, the euill configuration of the Planets &c. do much hinder the good effects of Phlebotomy: so good diet, moderate exercise, mild weather, and a conuenient constellation do greatly helpe and further the same.

2. None ought to bleed, but such as are too plethorickly oppressed with ranknesse of blood, or haue distended veines: for from very yong, weake or old persons, or from very leane, fat, or grosse people blood in no case is to be taken.

Generally take blood in the spring from the right side, and in Autumne from the left, the Moone placed vnder Aries, first halfe of Libra or Aquarius.

A Prognostication.

But more particularly let bloud

The	{	Flegmaticke.	{	The Moone	in	{	Aries or Sagittary.
		Cholericke.					Cancer or pisces.
		Helaneholique.					Aquarius, Libra first
		Sanguine.					halfe any of them.

Which constellations haue their hoped effects, if in the roote of the patients natiuity neither Saturne or Mars possesse or be- hold any such signe.

And for yeares let bloud

The	{	Younger —	{	from the	{	Change to the first quarter.
		middle aged				First quarter to the full.
		ancient —				Full to the last quarter.
		Decrepit. —				Last quarter to the Change.

The most laudable aspects for this purpose are the conjunction of the Moone with Iupiter or Venus, and her Trine or Sextile with them, or with the Sunne or Mercury incombust.

The Moones Trine or Sextile with Mars; as her quartile and opposition with ♄ or ♀ are indifferent.

But in any case let not the ☾ at such time be neere the ☉, ☿, or ♀ of ☉, ♄ or Mars, or other Planet combust, or any of them in like configuration with other.

In like manner it is very dangerous to open any veine, or make incision in any member, wherein the Moone at that present hath any dominion, for howloeuere there be some bold-faced Mountebanks, and insinuating Quack-saluers that will presume to worke wonders, without regard of age, sex, season or constellation, yet I would haue such men know that as the body of man, and euery living creature is humected or moistned according to the Moone, her increase, decrease, & position, but more especially that member which is subject to the signe wherein the Moone is, so by opening or tampering therewith, great hurt to the sicke person may redound, chiefly if at any such time the Moone be afflicted by the congregate or malignant aspect of any fatall Planet, and the rather if such Planet in the Radix of the natiuity had any dominion, in the 6. 8. or 12. houses, for then I dare be bold to say, that in such a case the sicke patient is thereby neuer or very hardly deliuered from his languishing disease.

But if some men (with Dr. Pond, in his ill-president) object that the constellations themselves are altered, for the Stars of Aries are shifted into Taurus, and those of Taurus into Gemini, &c. and therefore no heed to be taken of them, vntill they be rectified according to their moderne position, hereunto I answer as in my Prognostication 1610. that although it be true indeed that the fixed Starres are so remoued, yet if it be as certaine that neither the said Starres nor Planets themselves do act or giue any influx at all but by reflection, and that from the Sunne, for other there is none, and that the Planets though ioynd with fixed Starres of greatest magnitude (that is 107 times greater then the earth) yet are termed Ferales & Vacui, vnlesse, either by configuration, or corporall congresse, they behold one another: and also that when they returne to the same point of the heauens wherein they were at the radir of a natiuitie, or at any other stated time, although they find not the same starre there precisely either in Longitude or Latitude yet do vndoubtedly effect the thing presignified by them (salued miraculous infringement) in as ample manner as if such a fixed starre were partly ioynd with them: in regard whereof, as also howsoeuer it is infallibly true that the point of Aries euer did, and must begime at the vernal Equinoxe, although the fixed starres themselves will within the compasse of 9600 yeares sensibly march to the opposite point thereof. And that this my position is sound and rationall it shall be auerred by the best experienced in this age, who daily obserue that the masculinity & femininity of the Signes and Termes of the Planets are as certain & effectual now as in the time of Ptolomie, or euer since or before, which in no wise could be so, if with the fixed stars the constellations themselves were moued, which indeede are as immouable as the 12. celestia houses. But of this as time and occasion shall serue.

Take Scarification in like signes and aspects as in Phlebotomie, sauing that this is effected with better successe the Doone increasing,

For Purging.

Seeing that purgation is nothing else but an euacuation of vitious humors, molesting the body by reason of their heterogeneous quality, it must needs be very dangerous to giue purgative medicines to such as are of a good constitution, or enioy the benefite of perfect health, because such do thereby often become giddy-brained, and subject to griplings in the belly, convulsions, vnnaturall flures, and many other perillous & vncurable diseases. Therefore I wish none to take purgations that are very fat, leane, weake, yong or aged, or haue any other naturall flure, or vse to vomit, or keep a good diet, but onely such as are of a strong body, and are vexed with superfluity of vnnaturall humors, whether they be presently sicke, or futurely feare the force thereof. To the better effecting whereof,

A Prognostication

- In purging let these 9 things be diligently considered. viz.
1. The time of the yeare.
 2. The temperature of the Region.
 3. The part affected.
 4. The humor abounding.
 5. The place fittest to auoid the same.
 6. The age and strength of the patient.
 7. The manner of the sicknesse.
 8. The strength of the medicine.
 9. The place & configuration of the Moone.

For these being vntregarded the medicine cannot be administered without euident perill to the patient.

And first for the season, it is very conuenient to obserue that no purgative medicine ought to be administered, either in the height of Sommer, or depth of Winter, especially about the rising or setting of Canis Maior, or in any extreame hot or cold weather.

And that the medicine may worke with better successe purge euer in the wane of the Moone with this consideration also, that Flegme be purged with {

And in a Δ or \star aspect of ζ or \odot .

Choler be purged with the same medicines and vnder like signes, the \odot being also in a Δ or \star aspect of Venus.

Melancholy be purged when the \odot is vnder π or ω and in a Δ or \star aspect of Iupiter.

And yet the signes π and ω are of doubtfull effects, because (gouerning the superiour parts) they rather procure euacuation by vomit then seque,

Also in any case let not the ruminating signes (ν , δ , ζ , or Ω) be ascending, or the \odot apply to any retrograd Planet, for the yeflage euomition.

And therefore it is very requisite that the Lord of the ascendent be ioyned or configured with a Planet vnder the earth, for otherwise the medicine will be loathsome to the stomacke & thereby annihilate or hinder the effectuall working thereof.

The \odot application to γ or β is also to be auoided, for the one bretheth the stomack, the other dissolueth the intestine parts.

The corporall \circ of \odot with γ or β both fortifie nature in such sort that it ouercommeth the force of the medicine.

Purge not any principall part of the body, in the houre of the Planet gouerning the same, or when he is strong, but let the signe appropried to the same member be ascending and fortunate, or the \odot therein.

At the commencing or acting of these or any other principall business let not the signe ascend which in the radie of thy natiuitie possessed the cuspe of the 6. 8. or 12. house, and aboue all let nor thy Physition be a Saturnist or Partialist, vntill the selfe be of the same temper.

Certaine husbandly aduersisements.

Although the painefull husbandman, as best accustomed with the nature of the soile, the scituation and richnesse thereof, the temperature of the aire, and incredible difference of some grounds from others neate aduoyning, may by his practise and long experience know when and how to manure, sow, and plant the same as well as either Varro, Virgill, or Pliny himselfe; yet becaule they are for the most part ignorant, or consider not that the Moone in these rurall practises hath great power and operation I thinke it not amisse to aduertise them that if they will sow moist seeds, or commit any seed into moist ground, it is best done in the wake of the D and neere the change; but if they will sow hot seeds, or any other in hot ground, it is better effected in the increase and neere vnto the Full.

Generally in sowing of seedes let the D be swift in course and applying vnto Saturne, direct and incombust with a Δ or \star aspect and if it be possible let γ or β behold γ at the same instant with a friendly regard: or at least wile let the Planet to whom the Moone applyeth be aboue the earth, and the signe ascending moueable or common, and the Lord thereof together with the D in moueable or common signes, as γ s m Δ β γ or χ , and free from the ϵ or ρ of γ or β or any combust or retrograd Planet.

Commit seeds into the ground in no wile on the day of any

A Prognostication.

Eclipse, or vpon the full Moone, for such seldome or neuer cometh to good, but is subiect to blasting and putrification.

But in planting or grafting of trees, let the ascendent be fired, and the Lord thereof in the same or in the 10 and orientall, or render his power vnto a Planet fortunate in one of them.

Let the Moone also be in ♄ or ♀ increasing or at least in Virgo or ♍ and in a good aspect of ♄ and ♀ with ♃ or ♀ as before, and some of them in watry signes and strong in the 1. 3. 5. or 7. houses; but in any case let not ♄ be strong or in the ascendent or behold the same.

Dresse or prune your vines at the full Moone, and when she is vnder ♄, ♀, or ♄, and so shall neither field mice or birds infest the grapes.

Sow beanes and pease about the full Moone, but lentils add fetches in the last quarter.

For more plenty of hay spread your meadowes with compost in February or March the Moone increasing, but for more abundance of grasse or seeds, let your fields be dunged in the wane of the Moone.

Sell or libbe cattle from the last quarter to the change the Moone placed vnder ♃, ♄, or ♀, and free from infortunes.

Sheare or clippe sheepe the Moone increasing.

Reape corne and cut dwene hay presently after the full ☾.

Fell Timber for building in the last quarter of the Moone the being vnder the earth, and in a good aspect of Saturne, or rather vpon the very change-day, and latter end of Winter, for Plinie saith, that Timber cut at such a time will become exceeding hard and durable. Others write, that the most conuenient time to fell the same is betwixt the full and the last quarter, from St Martins day vntill mid January.

Plash hedges and lop trees for sewell, the ☾ increasing in ♃ or ♄, and affected of ♃ or ♄.

Cut haire the better to grow the ☾ increasing in ♃, ♄ or ♄, and in a ♄ or ♃ of ♃ or ♄ as before.

To destroy haire, cornes, wens, warts or such like excrescences, cut them in the last quarter, and when she is in ♄ or ♃ or ♄ or ♄.

Cleane or take children from nurse towards the full when the ☾ is voyd of course, and not seated in ♄ or ♄.

Hunt wildebeasts the ☾ in ♃ or ♄, and in a good aspect of ♃ or ♄ and the ascendent moueable.

Hauke for fowle the ☾ in ♃ or ♄ or ♄ and in a good aspect of ♃ or ♄ Mercury incombust.

Bretnor. 1612.

Set faile the Δ increasing and when she is swift in course and separating by a Δ or \times from \odot or ☿ or ☿ not retrograde or coin. but, applieth vnto any of them with like illumination.

Likewise the ascendent a watry signe and the Lord thereof in the 3. or 9. house fortunate, or in a good aspect with the Lord of either of them, or either of the fortunes. or ☿ in the 1. 3. or 9. house well affected (the infortun. & cadent) do note a prosperous and speedy voyage.

But in no wise let the Moone or Lord ascendent bee ioyned with the stormy constellations of Orion, Arcturus, canis maior or minor, the hedi or Hircus, or ♄ or configured with any retrograde or infortunate Planet, or the Δ , or any infortune in the 17 or 4 houses, or ♄ or ♂ angular.

A perfect and easy way to finde the time of Full sea in most places of this kingdome and Countrie adioyning.

In the Kalender is set downe the houre and minute of full-sea at London-bridge for every day in the yeare accordiag to the Moones motion: which although it may be something blinde or furthred by winds & land-flouds, as the one is staced, the other falleth, yet as those are seldome extreme, so do they not often cause any great difference in time. If therefore you desire to know the time of full-sea in any place here vnder noted looke for the day of the moneth, and ouer against the same right-wards (ioyning to the foretne account) you shall find the houre and minute of full-sea at London-bridge, and for any other place do but adde or subtract so many howers and minutes to or from the time there set downe as the table sheweth, and the totall of the one, or remainder of the other shall bee the time required.

Example.

Willing to know the time of full sea at London-bridge, the 22. of Iannary, I enter the Kalender, and ouer against that day and vnder the title I find it high water there at 3. a clocke, then desiring likewise to know the time of full-sea the same day at Linne, Humber, Weymouth, &c. I adde 3. houres as the table sheweth, and it maketh 6. a clocke, which is the time of high-water in all those places. And for Graue-end, Downes, Tenet, &c. subtracting one houre and one halfe, I finde it full sea there there halfe an houre past one : and so of all the rest.

A Prognostication

A Prognostication.

A description of the times and effects, of the Eclipses happning this yeare, 1612.

The Moone and earth will either of them, twise this yeare for a small time be depriued of part of the Sunne his beauteous beames, and that by reason of their owne malics, for they (not vnlke the ambitious worldlings of these dayes, enuying one anothers happinesse) will twise within 15. dayes in two seuerall seasons intercept the glorious rayes of that vniuersall informed from each other. The first Eclipsatio-happning the fourth of May at nine a clocke and 38 minutes at night, will be of the Moone: for at that instant our grand dame once will hide $\frac{7}{2}$ parts of the Sunns light from her superfices, and thereby eclipse or darken more then the moiety or one halfe of her body. The earth will begin to stand in the Moones light at 8. a clocke and a 11 minutes, and continue therein more or lesse vntill 11 a clocke and 5 minutes, at which time the Moone will againe perfectly recover her wanted light, and berowed Sun-shine, so that the durance of this Eclipse will be two houres and 54 minutes.

The effects herof (beginning to come in force the 24 of July, and ending the 21 of October following) are like to breake out in many secret and perfidious practises among men in sin-dry meteors and strange exhalations in the aire, and together with an earthquake, putrid and rotten feuers pestilent and venerieall diseases and infliction of dearch and famine are threat-ned vnto the countries of Iury, Barbary, Norway, Sweth-land, &c. and to the Citties Valentia, Urbino, Vienna, Patavia, &c. And to all such as haue the 24 degree of $m \ 8 \ R$ and $\frac{1}{2}$ ascending or culminating at the radir of their Natiuitie, are some disastrous events menaced either in body, goods, or name.

The second Eclipse happening the 20. of May at 10. a clocke and 23. minutes in the forenoone will be of the earth or Sunns choole you whtsher for at that very moment will the darke and opacious body of the Moone intercept $\frac{2}{3}$ of the bright beames of beauteous Titan, from the plane of our inha-bitance: the earth will beginne to incurre the Moones shadow at 9. a clocke 15. minutes, and continue vntill halfe an houre past 11 before shee haue recovered perfect daylight or Sun-shine, so that the durance of this Eclipse will be two houres and one quarter. The effects (beginning the 12. of October following and Bretnor. 1612.

And ending the 12. of January 1614) are like to appeare in fangling controuersies and emulation among Clergy-men and Lawyers, in contempt of piety and neglect of duty in general, and because this Eclypse hapneth in a signe respecting or appropriate to London I pray God it pretend no ensuing calamity to the same by plague, pestilence, or famine.

The third Eclypse will be of the Moone the 29 of October at 2. a clocke and a 11. minutes in the after noone, at which time, the earth will shadow aboue three quarters of her body from the bright Sunne-shine, but because it will chiefly ap-peare to the Tartarians, Chinoises, and Easterlings, so that we in England shall but only see the latter end thereof, I thinke it needlesse to set downe any effects at all.

The fourth Eclypcation will be of the earth or Sun (which you please) the 12. of November at 4. a clocke, and 12. min in the euening, when $\frac{1}{4}$ of 10 points of the Sunnes light, will be Eclipsed from the view of the American and Peruanian inhabitants, we in England shall onely see the beginning a litle before Sunne-set, but the British-Virginians shall behold the same to beginne about their noone and continue three houres before the terminating thereof. The effects (if any be) do most concerne the Westerne parts, and Spanish-Americans, vnto whom our happy and hopefull plantation in Virginia cannot choose but be distracting & corrosiue, but it were greatly to be wished that all true hearted Britons would further that godly religious & profitable attempt by all charitable meanes whatsoever.

Other Eclipses will fall out this yeare as that of Saturne & Mercury, the 19. of March, and that of Saturne & Mars, the 23.
of Aprill at night of whose effects (because I finde no Author that hath written any thing to the purpose therein) I willingly omit to speake.

Of the foure quarters of the yeare and first of Winter.

VVinter (which by good reason and indeed both alwaies comence with November) did take his beginning (according to vulgar Astrology) the 12.
of Decer last at 2. a clock & 41. min in the morning, for at that instant (if my Calculus faile not) was this mosty of our hemi-spheare furthest deflected from the eye or heart of the world: or the Sun (after old fantasy) then entering the first minute of the solstitial signe Capricorne, and being at his greatest declination from

from our zenith gave least portion of Sunne shine vnto vs and consequently caused shortest dayes and longest nights to all Northerne inhabitants.

The beginning of this quarter is like to be pestered with too much moisture. but the latter end more dry and seasonable, and therefore many diseases of cold and moist nature, are likely to range abroad, and such are Catarrhes, Goutes, Palsies, distempers and other fluxes.

In Winter keepe necke and feet from the cold,
And liue thou maist pleasantly till thou be old.

Of the Spring.

The Spring (which well may bee said to beginne in February) according to astronomers doth take his beginning this yeare vpon the 10 March at 3 a clocke 15 minutes and 36 seconds in the morning, the 12. Ascending, at which time the earth hauing volued herselfe to a right angle with the Sunne, and recovered like portion of shadow and Sunne shine, entreth the first minute of the religious signe Libra, or the Sunne hauing attained the first scruple of the Equinoctiall signe Aries maketh equall daies and equall nights to all nations.

The weather this quarter is like to proue reasonable temperate, and sicknesses therein not very frequent, if the Medopotamian disease be not too busy.

Touching the yeares resolution, in generall, I finde that therein schoollers and Creditors will haue smallest comfort, Lawyers and Ducksters greatest gaines, ambition-plotters best preferment, and honest mindes least maintenance.

Be sure in the Spring-time good dyet to keepe,
And then thou maist sing when others do weepe.

Of Summer.

Summer which by naturall course should commence with May taketh his beginning at such a time as the earth entering the first minute of Capricorne hath approached his furthest Southerne limit, and coming nearest the Sunne his visuall presence obtaineth greatest portion of his bright beames, and beautifull illumination, or when the Sunne stepping into the first scruple of Cancer and hauing finished his greatest greatest perambulation Northward maketh longest dayes and shortest nightes to all Northerne dwellers, which either way taken cometh to passe the 11 day of June at 7 a clocke and thirty two minutes in the morning, the thirteenth of Leo ascending.

The beginning and middle of this quarter are like to prove very seasonable. but the latter end fraught with many stormy gusts now & then, and so will strange fevers, heat-ach, flures, passions of the heart, and paines in the backe afflict many this Summer.

In Summer flye surfets and Physicke forbeate, Least pleasing thy senses thy health thou empaire.

Of Autumne.

Autumne (which by common sense begins with August) is alwaies said to enter at such a period of time as the regall Planet Sol (returning fromward vs) retoncheth the Equinoctiall at the first minute of the Southerne signe Libra, or rather when the earth entring the first minute of Aries and beholding the Sunne face to face, recovereth a like quantity of light and darkenesse, which howsoever taken cometh to passe the 12 of September at 9 a clocke and 56 min: at night the 3 of ʒs ascending.

As in this quarter variety of weather and some boisterous blasts are presignified, so therein also will mens bodies be pestered with many melancholy and flatulent diseases, Quaintaine and quotidian agues, Tremors, Itches, convulsions, chollicke and Rheumes.

In Harvest such as passe their time in riot,
And spende their daies in vaine and wanton toyes,
May hap in Winter to be nipt of dyet,
Or be bereft of wonted Christmas ioyes,
For health and wealth are opposite to those,
Whose course of life is dissolute and lose.

A more particular praediction as well of the rising and setting of the Planets & Aires daily disposition as of the good and euill daies in euery moneth for the better election of fit seasons to commynoe any weighty matter whatsoeuer,

Iaugary
